

The FCC is proposing rules changes that, so far as I can tell, will result in fewer avenues of communication controlled by fewer big companies than at present. I oppose any changes that may result in fewer opportunities for more companies. Competition is essential in the news and entertainment business. And the more competitors the better. Do not make changes that will reduce the number of independent outlets in a given area. Thank you.